DR. C. W. MOORE'S
Medical and Surgical Institute.
Commercial Street, a few doors below Kearney Str.,
Attending and Resident Physician,
C. W. MOORE, M. D.,
Late Surgeon, U. S. A., Quarantine Physician New Orleans and Boston, Lecturer on Morbid Anatomy and Diseases of Women and Children, Member of the Massachusetts Medical Society, etc., etc.

DR. MOORE WOULD RESPECTFULLY INform the people of California that he has established an Institute for the

CURE OF DISEASES
WHETHER CHRONIC OR ACUTE
AT 641 COMMERCIAL STREET,
A few doors below Kearney, where he may be consulted at all hours.

DISEASES OF THE UTERINE OR OVARIAN FUNCTIONS,
Characterized by irregular, suppressed, or painful menstruation, pain in the sides and back, sensation of weight in the pelvis, weakness, nervous headache, leucorrhœa or whites, are treated on scientific principles, and a prompt and permanent cure effected.

NERVOUS AFFECTIONS,
Such as neuralgia, paralysis, giddiness, dimness of vision, etc., will receive special attention.

DISEASES OF THE SEXUAL ORGANS,
Male or female, are treated with all the skill and appliances which modern science has made available.—Nauseous drugs and nostrums, which are so often administered for weeks without benefit, are entirely discarded, and a few days only are required to accomplish a perfect cure.

Secondary and hereditary affections, scrofula in all its manifold forms, dyspepsia, emaciation and debility, treated with certain and unfailing remedies—speedily expelling all corrupt humors, and imparting a healthy tone to the system by purifying the blood, regulating the secretions, and reinvigorating the vital powers.

Twenty years practice in different parts of the world has given the Doctor advantages possessed by few, and his remarkable success warrants a promise of effectual cure.

Medicines, with full directions, will be sent to any part of the State on receipt of letter describing symptoms.

An infirmary is connected with the establishment, where patients who desire may receive board and constant attention during their sickness, thus avoiding the inconvenience of a hotel. Kind and attentive nurses will be employed, and no means will be left untried to give full satisfaction. Consultation free.

TO THE LADIES.—Females in trouble, or afflicted with disease, are respectfully invited to call on Dr. MOORE, and consult him about their troubles. His uniform success in his treatment of Female Suppression and kindred diseases is a sufficient guarantee of his scientific attainments. Let no false delicacy prevent you, but call at once, and save yourself from future suffering and misery. Consultations are confidential, and his offices are arranged for the strictest privacy. Address, C. W. MOORE, M. D.
641 Commercial street,
Oct15-3m San Francisco.

THE HUMAN HAIR
HAS LONG BEEN THE STUDY OF THE most scientific men of the age, from the fact that close study generally causes the hair to fall off prematurely; and, in consequence, they have given the subject a portion of their valuable time, trying to invent some method to regain their lost looks; but all their labor was in vain, until

after many years of hard study devoted to this one subject, has produced an article that

WILL MAKE THE HAIR GROW, and which, by its use as a Hair Dressing, will effectually and always prevent its loss—even to extreme old age. Happily, the while possessing these virtues, is most delightful and agreeable without regard to their virtue. The hair, when diseased, becomes dry, and commences to turn grey, which is caused by the non-secretion by the capillary glands of a peculiar oil. It has therefore been thought and believed that if the glands were stimulated into action, they would still give a sufficient supply of nourishment to the hair; but alas! they forget one very important law of nature, viz: that ALL STIMULANTS HAVE THEIR REACTION; and the more the glands were stimulated—the sooner the final loss of the much prized locks. The principle of the preparation invented by Professor Crockett is entirely the opposite—instead of stimulating the capillary glands, he feeds them with the substance they require, and, in turn, the hair is fed by them—on the same principle as giving water to a flower. All we will say to those who are timid about trying new preparations is, that we strictly guarantee the AMYGDALINE to be entirely free from all stimulants, and is as harmless as filtered water, and can be used on the smallest infant. As a

AMYGDALINE

Hair Dressing
it is unequalled by any the world has yet produced. It keeps the head entirely free of dandruff, eruption, pimples—imparting to the hair a beautiful glossy softness not obtained by an known compound. It will also be found both pleasant and useful as a Cosmetique, surpassing cold cream and face lotions in its effects; for chaps, sore breast and nipples we know of no remedy that is equal to it.

THE PERFUME
used is such that the AMYGDALINE will always retain, it will not become rancid by age; in fact, it is perfect in every particular. Professor Crockett's Amygdaline can be had of all druggists and dealers everywhere. Price, 50 cents.

Ask for Crockett's Amygdaline, and take no other. se25-6m

Adams German Tonic and Aromatic Bitters are a never failing remedy for Billious Diseases and all derangements of the stomach and Digestive organs. Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Liver Complaints, Costiveness, &c. Where the system has been reduced by Fever and Ague, it will prove a valuable auxiliary for a speedy and permanent restoration to health and strength. They are highly refined, grateful to the taste, and remarkably warming, stimulating and invigorating in all there effects upon the system. Price, 50 cts. per bottle. ### THE NEW GOSPEL OF PEACE.

ACCORDING TO BENJAMIN.

CHAPTER III.

1 The War in the land of Unculpsalm. 3 The Great Covenant. 5 The greatness of the land of Unculpsalm. 7 Provoketh the hatred of Kings and Oppressors. 8 The Niggahs. 11 And the Covenant concerning them. 14 The Niggahs. 16 There arise men of Belial. 19 The Tshivulree. 22 And what the Tshivulree did to the men of Belial. 24 The Dimmichrats join themselves unto the Tshivulree. 26 The Everlasting Niggah. 27 Philip of Athens, a Priest of Beelzebub. 29 Isaiah thrusteth him out of the Tabernacle. 21 But the men of Belial prevail. 35 And the spirit Bak Bohn possesseth their Disciples. 39 The Phiretahs and Prestenbruux.

1. Now the war in the land of Unculpsalm was in this wise.

2. The people were of one blood, but the land was in many provinces. And the people of the provinces joined themselves together and cast off the yoke of a stubborn king who oppressed them beyond the great sea. And they said let us have no king, but let us choose from ourselves a man to rule over us; and let us no longer be many provinces but one nation; only in those things which concern not the nation let the people of each province do what is right in their own eyes.

3. And let it be written upon parchment and be for a covenant between us and our children, and our children's children forever—like unto a law of the Medes and Persians which altereth not.

4. And they did so. And the Great Covenant became the beginning and the end of all things unto the men of Unculpsalm.

5. And the men of Unculpsalm waxed great and mighty and rich; and the earth was filled with the fame of their power and riches; and their ships covered the sea. And all nations feared them. But they were men of peace, and went not to war of their own accord; neither did they trouble or oppress the men of other nations; but sought each man to sit under his own vine and his own fig tree. And there were no poor men and few that did evil born in that land; except thou go southward of the border of Masunandicsun.

6. And this was noised abroad; and it came to pass that the poor and the down-trodden, and the oppressed of other lands left the lands in which they were born, and went and dwelt in the land of Unculpsalm, and prospered therein, and no man molested them. And they loved that land.

7. Wherefore the kings and the oppressors of other lands, and they that devoured the substance of the people, hated the men of Uuculpsalm. Yet, although they were men of peace, they made not war upon them; for they were many and mighty. Moreover they were rich and bought merchandize of other nations, and sent them corn and gold.

8. Now there were in the land of Unculpsalm Ethiopians, which the men of Unculpsalm called Niggahs. And their skins were black, and for hair they had wool, and their shins bent out forward and their heels thrust out backward; and their ill savor went up.

9. Wherefore the forefathers of the men of Unculpsalm had made slaves of the Niggahs, and bought them and sold them like cattle.

10. But so it was that when the people of the land of Unculpsalm made themselves into one nation, the men of the North said, We will no longer buy and sell the Niggahs, but will set them free; neither shall more be brought from Ethiopia for slaves unto this land.

11. And the men of the South answered and said, We will buy and sell our Niggahs; and moreover we will beat them with stripes, and they shall be our hewers of wood and drawers of water forever; and when our Niggahs shall flee into your provinces ye shall give them to us, every man his Niggah; and after a time there shall no more brought from Ethiopia, as ye say. And this shall be a part of the great covenant.

12. And it was a covenant between the men of the North and the men of the South.

13. And it came to pass that thereafter the men of the South and the Dimmichrats of the North, and the Pahdees gave themselves night and day to the preservation of this covenant about the Niggahs.

14. And the Niggahs increased and multiplied till they darkened all the land of the South. And the men of Unculpsalm who dwelt in the South took their women for concubines and went in unto them, and begat of them sons and daughters. And they bought and sold their sons and daughters, even the fruit of their loins; and beat them with stripes, and made them hewers of wood and drawers of water.

15. For they said, Are not these Niggahs our Niggahs? Yea, even more than the other Niggahs? For the other niggahs we bought, or our fathers, with money; but these, are they not flesh of our flesh, and blood of our blood, and bone of our bone; and shall we not do what we will with our own?

16. But there arose men in the northern provinces of Unculpsalm and in the countries beyond the great sea, iniquitous men, saying, Man's blood cannot be bought with money; foolish men, saying, Though the Niggah's skin be black and his hair woolly, and his shins like unto cucumbers, and his heels thrusting out backward, and though he have an ill savor not to be endured by those who get not children of Niggah women, is yet a man; men of Belial which said, All things whatsoever that men should do to you, do ye even so to them; for this is the law and the prophets.

17. And the slaves were for a reproach throughout all the world unto the men of the South, and even unto the whole land of Unculpsalm. But by reason of the great covenant and the laws of the provinces, the men of the North had nothing to do in this matter.

18. But the men of the South which had Niggahs (for there were multitudes which had no Niggahs, and they were poor and oppressed) heeded it not; for they were a stiff-nicked generation. And they said, We will not let our Niggahs go free; for they are our chattels, even as our horses and our sheep, our swine and our oxen; and we will beat them, and slay them, and sell them, and beget children of them, and no man shall gainsay us. We stand by the Great Covenant.

19. Moreover we are Tshivulree.

20. Now to be of the Tshivulree was the chief boast among the men of the South, because it had been a great name upon the earth. For of olden time he who was of the Tshivulree was bound by an oath to defend the weak and succor the oppressed, yea, even though he gave his life for them. But among the men of the South he only was of the Tshivulree who ate his bread by the sweat of another's face, who robbed the laborer of his hire, who oppressed the weak, and set his foot on the neck of the lowly, and who sold from the mother the fruit of her womb and the nursling of her bosom. Wherefore the name of Tshivulree stank in the nostrils of all the nations.

21. For they were in the darkness of a false dispensation, and had not yet learned the mystery of the new gospel of peace.

22. And when the Tshivulree found within their borders those men of the North, iniquitous men which said that man's blood cannot be bought, and men of Belial which said, Do unto all men as ye would have them do unto you, they seized upon them and beat them with many stripes, and hanged them upon trees, and roasted them with fire, and poured hot pitch upon them, and rode them upon sharp beams, very grievous to bestride, and persecuted them even as it was fitting such pestilent fellows should be persecuted.

23. And they said unto the men of the North, cease ye now to send among us these men of Belial preaching iniquity, cease also to listen unto them yourselves, and respect the Great Covenant, or we will destroy this nation.

24. Then the men of Unculpsalm which called themselves Dimmichrats, and the Pahdees, seeing that the Tshivulree of the South had only one thought, and that was for the Niggah, said, We will join ourselves unto the Tshivulree, and we will have but one thought with them, even the Niggah; and we shall rule the land of Unculpsalm, and we shall divide the spoil.

25. And they joined themselves unto the Tshivulree; and the Tshivulree of the South, and the men of the North, which called themselves Dimmichrats, and the Pahdees ruled the land of Unculpsalm for many years; and they divided the spoil. And they had but one thought, even for the Niggah.

26. Wherefore he was called the everlasting Niggah.

27. Now, about these days came Philip, from the new Athens, a priest of Beelzebub, and he taught in the Tabernacle at Gotham.

28. And Philip had many words, but only one thought, and that like the thought of the men of the South, was for the Niggah. But he respected not the Great Covenant. And he said unto the people, ye ought to set the Niggah free.

29. And it came to pass that when he was teaching in the Tabernacle, one Isaiah entered (not the prophet, but he who was captain of a band of the Hammerites) and protested unto him that he should no longer teach such pestilent doctrine. And having his band of Hammerites with him, he knocked Philip down, and thrust him from the pulpit wherein he was speaking, and drove him out of the Tabernacle.

30. Now this was the first ministration of the new gospel of peace. But as yet it was not preached, for it had no apostle.

31. But in process of time the ministers of Belial turned the hearts of many men, even of them which called themselves Dimmichrats, to iniquity; and they all began to say that the strength of the great nation of Unculpsalm should not be used to oppress the Niggah; declaring in the wickedness of their imaginations and the hardness of their hearts, that whatsoever the people of Unculpsalm would that others should do to them even so they should do unto others, even unto Niggahs.

32. But they had respect unto the Great Covenant, and sought not to set the Niggahs free; and they returned unto the men of the South the Niggahs that fled from their provinces, according to the Great Covenant.

33. Moreover the men of the North made soft answers unto the men of the South, and strove to turn away their wrath, and to live with them at brethren. For though they feared not, neither hated them, they did fear that they would destroy the nation.

34. And the Tshivulree of the South saw that the men of the North feared their threats; and they waxed bolder and said, We will not only keep our Niggahs in our own provinces, but we will take them into all the country of Unculpsalm, which is not yet divided into provinces. And they went roaring up and down the land.

35. But in process of time it came to pass that the spirit of their forefathers appeared among the men of the North, even the great spirit Bak Bohn; and he stiffened up the people mightily,

36. So that they said unto the men of the South, Hear us, our brethren! We would live with you in peace, and love you, and respect the Great Covenant. And the Niggahs in your provinces ye shall keep, and slay, and sell, they and the children which ye beget of them, into slavery, for bond men and bond women forever. Yours be the sin before the Lord, not ours; for it is your doing, and we are not answerable for it. And your Niggahs that flee from your provinces they shall be returned unto you, according to the Great Covenant. Only take care lest peradventure ye make captives the Niggahs of our provinces which we have made free men. Ye shall in no wise take a Niggah of them.

37. Thus shall it be with your Niggahs and in your own provinces, and yours shall be the blame forever. But out of your provinces, into the common land of Unculpsalm ye shall not carry your Niggahs except they be made thereby free. For that land is common, and your laws and the statutes of your provinces, by which alone ye make bondmen, run not in that land. And for all that is done in that land we must bear the blame with you. For that land is common; and we share whatever is done therein; and the power of this nation and the might of its banner shall no longer be used to oppress the lowly and to fasten the chain upon the captive. Keep ye then your bondmen within your own provinces.

38. Then the Tshivulree of the South waxed wroth, and foamed in their anger, and the air was filled with their cursings and their revilings. And certain of them which were men of blood, and which were possessed of devils, and had difficulties, and slew each other with knives and shooting irons, did nothing all their time but rave through the land about the Niggah.

39. Now these men were the fore-runners of him that preached the new gospel of peace, and prepared the way before him. Wherefore they were called Phiretahs.

40. And it came to pass that one of the Phiretahs, whose name was Prestenbruux, was wroth with Charles, who was surnamed the Summoner, who was one of the chief law-givers of the land of Unculpsalm, and also one of the men of Belial, who taught iniquity, saying, Whatsoever ye would that men should do unto you do you even so to them, even unto Niggahs.

(For Charles the Summoner had declared that it was not lawful for the men of the South to take their Niggahs out of their own provinces. And thus it was that Prestenbruux was offended in him.)

41. Wherefore Prestenbruux took unto himself other Phiretahs, and he sought Charles the Summoner, and found him alone at a table, writing in the great hall of Unculpsalm. And he came upon him unawares, and he smote him and beat him to the ground, so that he was nigh unto death.

42. And this was the second ministration of the new gospel of peace. But even now it was not preached, for it had yet no apostle

43. And after these things, James, whose surname being interpreted meaneth Facing-bothways, ruled in the land of Unculpsalm.

THE TWO FIELDS.

Don Pedro, king of Aragon, was tired of the frequent solicitations which the clergy made against the Israelites, who were, as was usually the case in ancient times, severely persecuted. The clergy were always repeating to the king that the Jews must be converted, whether willing or not. Having yielded to the wishes of his importunate subjects, he one day summoned to his court the chief of the Jewish community in order to consult as to the best means to bring the refractory Israelites to the Catholic church.

When the Syndic came, the king dismissed his attendants, and questioned him as follows:

"What course would you advise me to pursue in this difficult matter of bringing you Israelites to our church, friend?" kindly inquired the king.

"Will your gracious majesty first have the goodness to permit me to ask of you justice concerning a certain case I have in hand?" asked the syndic.

"Speak on, and rely on my impartiality."

"Sire, I am indeed very much indebted to you for this favor. Since it has pleased you to hear me, I will now proceed to give you the purport of the affair, of which I feel in duty bound to complain.

"One of my neighbors, a kind-hearted man, being not very rich, and having two sons whom he loves to distraction, went a few years since to India in order to improve his fortune, so that he would be enabled to leave a competence to his sons. In order that they might maintain themselves during his absence, he gave to each a field of ground, telling them, at the same time:

"'My dear children, it is my wish that you should cultivate these to the best of your abilities; and when I shall have accumulated a small fortune, I promise to send for you to come to me. Now be sure and live in amity together, and obey my orders.'"

"He then embraced them, and departed on his voyage.

"Everything went on well as long as these two brothers were young; but as they advanced in age, jealousy, that destroyer of all happiness, sprang up between them.

"'My field is much better than your,' said one.

"'Tis false!' retorted the other, in anger; 'you will know that mine would produce double as much as yours, were it better cultivated.'

"Every day new discussions arose; until at last, from being affectionate brothers, as their good father had comanuded them, they became inveterate enemies, and at the present day the greatest pleasure of the one is to destroy the field of the other. As they are my neighbors, and I have often tried to reconcile them, yesterday they came to my dwelling and declared to me that they would submit to my arbitration to decide the value of their respective fields. I immediately declined to perform the office, and told them:

"'Out of respect for your father, keep without dissension that which he in his infinite kindness has bestowed on you. Live together as good brothers until your father sends for you; and besides, be sure not to idle your time in profitless discussions, and allow your fields to become sterile and unproductive. Remember that if you do not obey the commands of your father, you shall be punished for it.'"

"Your answer was a wise one," answered Don Pedro. "What effect did it produce on those two unnatural brothers?"

"Alas! Sire, my words angered them both, and they were so base as to unite in inflicting unmerciful blows on me. In this, at least, they were friends."

"It is infamous!" thundered Don Pedro flushed with anger; they shall be made to suffer for this, as they deserve, for committing such a monstrous act of cruelty."

"Ah!" replied the syndic, with eagerness, "will your gracious majesty, before ordering punishment on those two unfortunates, deign to examine the history of these two brothers? Do you not perceive the comparison, O Sire? I will explain it to you, most gracious sovereign. Compare their history to our two religions. Is it not the same? Do we not both pretend that our Almighty Father has given to each of us our religion? Did he not command both of us to live in harmony with each other? Do not each of us maintain that his own religion is the only true one? Instead of being divided and injuring each other, would it not be infinitely better to live in perfect harmony until the day, summoned by grim Death to the celestial throne of our Almighty Father, we might be able there to prove, by the recital of all the good deeds of our life, whether we have cultivated with profit the two fields which have been allotted to us?"

Don Pedro immediately understood the meaning of this beautiful apologue. And thenceforth all the appeals which the clergy made to him against the Israelites were always frustrated by his immovable firmness.

The chiefs of the Jewish community, who had made so befitting an appeal to the king, was not forgotten. Don Pedro rewarded him for his fidelity to his persecuted nation, and made him high in favor, saying that if he was so faithful to his religion, he would also be faithful to his sovereign. And Don Pedro was right. By the Jewish community he was honored and beloved, not only for this deed which he did for them, but also for all his innumerable excellent qualities.—From Jewish History.

A PRINTER not long since, having been discarded by his sweetheart, went to the office to commit suicide with a "shooting-stick." The thing wouldn't go off. The "devil" wishing to pacify him, told him to go into the sanctum where the editor was writing his duns to delinquent subscribers. He says that picture of despair reconciled him to his fate.

TAKING THE VEIL.—Tuesday morning, of last week, at the Convent of our Lady of Mercy, San Francisco, Miss Mary Ann Reinhart, and Miss Abbey O'Conner received the black veil at the hands of Rt. Rev. Dr. Losa, Bishop of Sonora.

DUTCH FLAT ENQUIRER.

SATURDAY MORNING, DEC. 10, 1864.

Now, by St. Paul, the work goes bravely on,
The Stars and Stripes are up for Liberty,
Flag of the Nation--Talisman of the Free,
Curs'd be the hand that dares to tear thee down.

SINCE the rains have started in our ditches have been running pretty full, supplying the miners with all the water they desire, and as though the heavens conspired to favor their operations, rain ceased on Thursday, and on yesterday the sun came out beautifully, the weather being warm and pleasant, just such a state of things as we would have asked for, had we been consulted. If the miners do not take out gold now, we shall despair of the diggings, the capability of the miners to make money, and predict a general bust up, and we will lead the van. But we do not anticipate such a calamity; we are well convinced that we are located in the midst of the richest mineral district in the State, and have no fears, should the present favorable weather continue, but there will be a greater gold yield in this and neighboring districts this year than ever before since the location of these mines. Our people are sanguine of having entered upon the "good time" which has been so long promised them as "coming;" and we sincerely hope that they may not be mistaken. No people, in our opinion, better deserve success than they do, they are patient, persevering, and industrious to an extent that is surprising, and under circumstances the most discouraging. Now, however, they have a prospect of reaping the fruits of their energy; may the harvest be rich and plentiful.

THAT EXPOSE.—As a general thing we do not put much faith in persons who affiliate with secret organizations and afterwards come out in an expose of the work of the organization, yet, the one under consideration, the Knights of the Columbian Star, come to us so well authenticated with names and dates, that it would be folly to doubt. Beriah Brown, the old traitor, is named as the Governor-General of this crew who had banded themselves together for the purpose of inaugurating civil war in our State. Since the expose has been printed, Brown acknowledges the existence of the order and has the impudence to attempt to justify it! The alphabet, signs, passwords, manner of entering their lodges, add testing members have been published, and we intend reprinting it in our next week's issue, in order that our readers may see the depravity of persons who have heretofore essayed to lead public opinion in the politics of the State. They are now, however, stripped of the mask with which they have endeavored to cover their damnable designs. Those engaged in this treasonable plot should be arrested and punished as their crimes deserve. We are now tired of the leniency which those in authority have shown these bad men. They are dangerous in every way, to the community, the state, and to individuals: and the sooner they are cared for by the authorities the better it will be for the peace and welfare of the masses.

☞ The San Francisco Flag says that since McCoppin, one of the Supervisors of San Francisco, resigned, the Alta which has been troubled with Dutch Flat on the brain for the past year, intends advocating the issuance of the bonds to the Pacific Railroad Company. We are sorry for this; and if there is any way by which this terrible misfortune can be averted, we call upon the friends of this great National measure to do it. The Alta has made more friends to the Pacific Railroad by its persistent efforts to injure it than could ever have been done had it advocated the measure. The friends of the road in this place have been seriously thinking of making up a purse for that paper besides subscribing for a number of copies—not a number of which now comes here—in gratitude for its opposition, but if it intends to favor the measure hereafter, of course our people will no longer be under any obligations to it.

THE PLACE.—We call attention to the fact that Mr. Hillhouse is prepared to execute all orders for stoves, pipes, tinware, hardware, and hydraulic iron pipe of every description and size, at prices that cannot fail to be satisfactory.—This gentleman's work has heretofore given every satisfaction, and persons at a distance who desire to economize would do well to learn his prices before purchasing elsewhere.

Those who are in want of crockery, glassware, tobacco, cigars, clocks pistols, knives and fine old liquors can drop in upon J. B. Levyn, under the Masonic Hall, and be supplied at reasonable prices. To those who need something extra in crockeryware this is the place; persons who live within ten miles of this place can save money by sending their orders to Levyn instead of sending them to the city.

POSTPONED.—The ball which was advertised to come off at the theater on Saturday, the 24th, has been postponed to Monday evening the 26th. This arrangement, it is presumed, will suit all parties, and allow those who may wish to attend the ball to dance as much as they wish without encroaching on the Sabbath; and by this postponement, the ball and Christmas tree will not conflict. Those who have received tickets will please take notice "and govern themselves accordingly."

CLOSED.—The jewelry and watchmaking establishment of W. H. Keeler is closed, and will remain so until the last of next week, when it will be reopened with a full assortment of watches and jewelry of every description.

WE call the serious and working attention of the Road Commissianer to the hole on Sacramento street, near Morris' livery stable. Some people think it ought to be fixed.

THE ROAD.

Mr. Polley, the Superintendent of the Dutch Flat and Donner Lake Wagon Road, informs us that the road is now open, and that there is no difficulty whatever in teams and stages passing over it, nor has there been since Sunday last. The road was, for a short time only, obstructed, which was, as we stated last week, caused by trees blown across the road, and during the time consumed in removing them, the road became blocked with snow, but only for a day or two. That the appliances for keeping the road open were not so extensive as on older roads, we admit; yet, taking everything into consideration, the same delays would have occurred anywhere else, as we do not pretend to be exempt from the action of the elements, and those who have charge of the road confidently assert their ability to keep the road open hereafter. Not a single piece of timber placed on this road has been washed away; not a single bridge been damaged by the storm; and the trifling washing of the grade has been of such an insignificant character that it has, in no instance, detained the stages an hour.

The Company owning this road have labored under peculiar and weighty disadvantages in comparison with other companies. In the first place, this road has just been thrown open to the public. The late storm was one of unusual severity, and was sufficient to obstruct much older roads, as is instanced in the Placerville route. The road has not had the advantage of travel but a short time, and the appliances for keeping it open were not so extensive as upon the Placerville route. Yet, laboring under all these disadvantages, together with the fact that it is but sparsely settled, this route still retains the palm of being the best and shortest, and over which, allowing it to be in a "miserable condition," passengers go through from Virginia to Sacramento from sixteen to twenty hours ahead of those who travel by the Placerville route, and would doubtless make an equal saving of time if the Henness Pass route was kept open, notwithstanding the rival routes have hotels situated upon them at not more than a mile apart, and whose proprietors are interested in keeping the roads open, while the stands and stations on this route are three and four miles distant from each other, and many of these have but a slight interest in the welfare of the road, being chiefly bachelors' establishments, whose owners are not supposed to exert themso much as those who have located permanently would consider incumbent upon them; yet we say, that will these differences in favor of the others, the Dutch Flat route is preeminetly superior.

This road, running as it does, over a comparatively level country, has demonstrated beyond a doubt the best snow road over the mountains! The show fell, from ten miles above this place to the summit, to a uniform depth, being on an average less than four feet; and had the Company have known what to anticipate, the road would never have been obstructed so as to stop travel more than half a day, at the furthest.

There has been, from the commencement of this enterprise, a manifest disposition on the part of those interested in other routes to decry this road, and nothing has been neglected by them—notwithstanding the most convincing proofs of its superiority have been given—to endeavor to create a false impression in the public mind. We have heretofore preferred to settle the question of the respective merits of the routes; and, so far as we know, the public has pronounced in favor of our road, many, on arriving at this place, expressing their determination to travel no other. We firmly believe, that with all the vituperations heaped upon our road, its advantages of location and construction are such as to secure the great bulk of travel both Winter and Summer.

GONE FROM OUR GAZE.—On Tuesday morning last D. E. McCarthy, and family, with S. P. Gillis, shook the dust (mud) of our hospitable town from their feet and took their departure for the land of silver. We are not so well satisfied with this arrangement as we might be; after securing the services of the first named gentleman for an unlimited length of time to furnish our readers with their hebdomadal chemuck, and the services of the latter named gentleman to "set up" the ponderous leaders written by the first, we have been deserted—left!—Then to think of the enormous outlay sustained in the purchase of the vast quantities of "Bourbon" with which to tickle their fastidious palates and prepare the editor's mind and arm for a raid on Copperheads generally, and on Beriah Brown's treason mill in particular, the reflection is terrific. Then the disappointment of the editor of this paper in not being able to take a few week's rest after his herculean efforts during the late canvas in which he succeeded in electing all the Union candidates, but Kopp, (and would have elected him but there was no office for him), it is horrible! We have no doubt these "desperadoes" consider they have played us a clever trick, and may be they have, but we can't "see it." However, we don't intend to be mean and will now play the magnimous (it don't cost anything in this instance) and we freely forgive them any little vexation they may have caused us, hoping, that should ever occasion present itself whereby either can make it convenient to visit our State that they will not fail to come through on this route, assuring them of the hospitalities of the town and the welcome greetings of the writer.

WHAT has become of the Stars and Stripes? We have not received a copy for two weeks; we learn that Selkirk has been appointed Federal Assessor for this county, vice John C. Boggs, resigned. Probably that's what's the matter. He's got an office and don't want to associate with poor folks any more.

The following letter dated at Sacramento on Saturday last, was received at Nevada, says the Gazette:

"This continued yet welcome storm is giving all the roads over Sierra Nevada mountains a severe trial. So far, passengers from Virginia have arrived at Sacramento by way of Dutch Flat 16 to 24 hours ahead of those by way of Placerville. No passengers through yesterday by either road. And while landslides and disasters to road-bed and bridges are reported on the Placerville route, up to the latest advices from Dutch Flat not a foot of road-bed nor a single bridge has been carried off, the only obstruction being fallen trees and the snow, which will cause but temporary delay on our line."—To the above the Gazette adds "this is all very well for the Dutch Flat route; but we have reason to believe that the attempt to keep that route open through the Winter will be abandoned, and recourse had to the Henness Pass route."

We of course are ignorant of the "reasons" of our cotemporary, but we do know that nothing of the kind is contemplated in this section of the vineyard. When it is found impossible to keep this open, we shall not be surprised to hear that the snow is an hundred feet deep on the Henness Pass route. The fact of the business is just this, the Dutch Flat route is the best located and most practicable over the mountains, and has the best constructed road with less grade—possesses more natural advantages than other route in the State, and all that has been or can be said or written against it cannot keep it down. The other routes over the mountains converging at Sacramento have had their day and must now give way to a better one. It is hard, to be compelled to do this, but is fair, and the sooner those who are opposed to the Dutch Flat route learn to submit and acknowledge its supremacy the better.

SENATOR McDOUGALL.

A writer in the Solano Press, giving a biographical sketch of eminent Californians, writes as follows of James A. McDougall, one of our present Senators:

He was born in Bethlehem, Albany county, New York, on the 19th of November, 1817. He received his education, principally, at the Albany Grammar School, which was then under the management of Joseph Henry, now Secretary of the Smithsonian Institute at Washington. McDougall manifested more than ordinary skill in the profound science of mathematics, and would, no doubt, have made a most eminent engineer. He assisted in the survey of the Albany and Schenectady Railroad, the first road in this country on which a locomotive was run. He read law, first with James Lamoreaux, and then with L. B. Woodruff, and was admitted to the bar in New York city.

In the year 1837, he sought a new field of action in the State of Illinois, locating first at Griggsville, and afterwards at Jacksonville. Here he soon won a high position at the bar, which fact abundantly proves his ability, as giants were his competitors. Abraham Lincoln, Stephen A. Douglas, Edward D. Baker, Lyman Trumbull, Wm. H. Bissell, and numerous other distinguished men were then practising in the courts of Illinois. In 1842, the Legislature elected him Attorney General of the State, and in 1844 he was reelected. He was nominated for Congress, but was defeated by Colonel Hardin, the most popular man in the District, by about one hundred votes. In the year 1846 he removed to Chicago, and three years later he organized and accompanied an exploring party, which had for its object the general survey of the territory lying between the Rio Bravo del Norte, the Gila and the Colorado. He soon afterward proceeded to California, located in San Francisco, and devoted himself to his profession. He soon had a most lucrative practice, and in 1850 was chosen Attorney General of the State. In 1852 he was elected to the lower House of Congress—Milton S. Latham being his colleague—and there signalized himself as a faithful and persevering advocate of the Pacific Railroad. At the expiration of his term he declined a renomination, and resumed again the practice of his profession—entering into a copartnership with Solomon A. Sharp.

In the year 1861 occurred the remarkable contest for United States Senator to succeed Wm. M. Gwin. The Douglas party divided into two elements—one favoring McDougall the other Nugent or Denver, as the circumstances dictated. The Republican members of the Legislature cast their complimentary ballots for T. G. Phelps. McDougall made a speech before the Legislature expressing sentiments strongly in favor of the perpetuity of the Union and the suppression by the Government of any and all demonstrations hostile thereto; and to end the strife the Republicans voted with the friends of McDougall, and thus he was elected to the Senate of the United States. His record in the Senate is too well known to need reviewing here. He soon abandoned himself to that horrible passion which has ruined so many brilliant intellects. Not content with being almost constantly intoxicated, he arrayed himself against the Administration, and sought every means to embarrass it. In the late Presidential contest he was very fierce in his opposition to Lincoln, and, in a speech, promised if the President was reelected to take his family on his back and swim across the Pacific ocean!

Laying aside all party prejudice, and closely analyzing McDougall's character, one is forced to the conclusion that he is a man of no mean talent. As a general scholar he has but few equals. In demeanor, he is courteous and polite, and has a most polished address. His reputa- as an orator is not equal to his actual deserts. Some of his speeches are most eloquent productions: for instance, his eulogy on Douglas, and his oration on the death of Baker. As a politician McDougall has always been allied to the Democracy, supporting Lecomptonism, but afterwards joining the "Little Giant" in the Presidential contest of 1860.

DISCHARGED.—Charles A. Moore, one of Captain M. H. Calderwood's recruits, who killed Levi Cover in this place last month, and who, after examination by Justice Brown, was held to answer, has been discharged by the Grand Jury, that body failing to find a bill against him. We learn that he is waiting in Auburn to go down as a recruit with Capt. C., when that gentleman returns to his command.

DON'T forget that Gross & Boke have an excellent assortment of new books, albums, toys, cutlery, etc., which they have got up expressly for the holidays, and which they will dispose of at a small advance on San Francisco prices.

RESIGNED.—Justice W. G. Brown, of this Township tendered his resignation to the Board of Supervisors at their late session, which was accepted, and E. Aubury, Esq., appointed to dispense law and justice in his stead. Good appointment.

BLANKS, TRUST DEEDS, AND CERTIFICATES OF INCORPORATION, for sale at this office.

WHAT AN EDITOR MIGHT HAVE BEEN.—Holland, of the Springfield (Mass.) Republican thus describes what he might have been if he had not become an editor:

Your correspondent would have become stalwart and strong, with horny hands, and a face as black as the ace of spades. He would have taught school winters, worked on the farm summers, and gone out haying fifteen days in July, and taken for pay the iron work and running gear of a wagon. At twenty-two, or thereabouts, he would have begun to pay attention to a girl with a father worth two thousand dollars, and a spit-curl on her forehead—a girl who always went to singing-school and "set in the seats," and sung without opening her mouth—a pretty girl any way. Well, after seeing her home from singing-school two or three years, taking her to a Fourth of July, and getting about a hundred dollars together, he would have married and settled down. Years would pass away, and that girl with the spit-curl would have eleven children—just as sure as you live—seven boys and four girls. We should have had a hard time in bringing them up, but they would soon be able to do the milking and help their mother on wash-days, and I, getting independent at last, and feeling a little stiff in the joints, should be elected a member of the Legislature, having been an assessor and school-committee man for years. In the evening of my days, with my pipe in my mouth, thirteen barrels of cider in the cellar, and a newspaper in my hand, I should sit and look over the markets, through a pair of gold-mounted spectacles, and wonder why such a strange, silly piece as this be published.

CALAVERAS ITEMS.—The Calaveras Chronicle of Dec. 3d, says:

Frank Jefferson and John McManus were instantly killed on Thursday, Dec. 1st, by the caving of a bank, while they were at work in the claim of R. H. Paul & Co., at Chili Gulch, and another man, whose name we were unable to learn, had his legs broken. Mr. Jefferson was a young man, and had resided in this section for the last six or eight years, until within a few weeks, when he went to the above named place to go to work. He was here a few days since to see his father, but was disappointed, as he left this place. Mr. Jefferson's remains will be brought to this place for burial.

The body of a man named Smith, was found last Sunday, near Angels. His head was severed from his body, and both of his arms had been cut off and carried away, probably to prevent identification, as his name and other marks were stamped upon his arms in India ink. He had not been seen in town for some time past, and he appears to have been killed several days ago. The circumstances of the case are such as to leave no doubt that he was murdered, but by whom has not yet been discovered.

J. MARSHALL HANNA, a reporter of one of the Richmond papers was recently arrested and held to bail in the sum of $400,000 for comparing the Mayor's office of that place to a "pig sty." The amount of his bail in Confederate bonds would be valued at about $4 50 in greenbacks. They are consequently worth nothing.—Nev. Gazette.

That's pretty cool, too. Why, man, do you know you are not paying the greenbacks much of a compliment? Four dollars and fifty cents! And you an editor. You must be made of money.

SERIOUS AFFRAY.—At Iowa Flat, about one mile from Cold Springs, El Dorado county, on Wednesday afternoon, says the Placerville News of the 4th inst., a difficulty occurred between Jo. Poteet and Jacob Lout, about a mining claim. A few angry words passed between them, when they advanced towards each other with mining shovels uplifted. Poteet struck Lout on the head with the edge of his shovel, cutting a deep gash from the left temple to near the top of the head, about five inches in length, fracturing the skull about three inches. His recovery is doubtful. An examination of the defendant was had yesterday before Justice Bush. The examination was continued until the 26th, the defendant giving bonds in $3,000.

SUMMONS.—State of California, County of Placer.—The People of the State of California, to WILLIAM S. CONNER—Greeting:

You are hereby summoned to appear before me at my office, in Wisconsin Hill, Township No. 7, County of Placer, State of California, on the 3d day of January, 1865, at 10 o'clock, A. M., to answer unto the complaint of James F. Brown, wherein he prays for judgment against you for the sum of one hundred and thirty-six 11-100ths ($136 11) dollars, principal, and seventy-six 49-100ths ($76 49) dollars, interest, said amount being a balance due upon a certain promissory note given by you to plaintiff on the 8th day of November, 1862, and take notice, if you fail to appear judgment will be taken against you for said amount together with costs and damages.

Given under my hand this 28th day of November, A. D. 1864. O. H. YOUNG, J. P., Township No. 7.

IT appearing to my satisfaction by the affidavit of James F. Brown, the above named plaintiff, that he has good cause of action against the above named defendant, Wm. S. Conner, and it appearing that said defendant has left said county of Placer, it is therefore, Ordered, that service of summons in the above entitled action be had upon said Wm. S. Conner by publishing the same in the Dutch Flat ENQUIRER, a newspaper printed and published at Dutch Flat, Placer county, once a week for the period of four weeks.

The California Fly-Killing Liquid.

FLY PAPER KILLS ITS THOUSANDS. THE Liquid Fly Killer its tens of thousands. This preparation for killing flies gives the greatest satisfaction of anything ever yet used. It is now improved to the highest killing point. It is of such a nature and so speedy of effects, that the flies will not spot the walls and windows, which makes the use of other preparations so objectionable.

HOPE FOR THE AFFLICTED.—In another part of this paper will be found the advertisement of the celebrated Institute established by Dr. J. C. YOUNG, in 1850. In this age of deceit and charlatanism it is a boon to the suffering to point out to them where they are sure of obtaining the wished for relief and cure. Under the care of the skillful Doctor the sick and troubled can divest themselves of their burdens of pain; lay aside their cross, and secure health and happiness. If you are sick or in trouble, do not hesitate. Read the advertisement and follow the advice. Do not forget the number nor the manner of directing your letter. Consultation Office, 540, Washington street, San Francisco. nov5-3m

Holiday Presents.—One of the best opportunities ever offered to dealers in TOYS, FANCY GOODS and MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS is at Messrs. Heyer & Co.'s store, 406 Battery street, between Clay and Washington, San Francisco. Their stock is very extensive, of recent importation, and they are determined to close it out at the very lowest prices. Croquette and other games, Bagatelle Boards, etc. td

SHERIFF'S SALE.—BY VIRTUE OF AN Order of Sale to me delivered and directed on the 24th day of November, A. D. 1864, issued out of the District Court 14th Judicial District for the county of Placer, and state of California, on a judgment and decree rendered in said court on the 17th day of November, A. D. 1864, in favor of J. J. Collins and against J. Dorenbach, Capt. B. Pollard, — Bartlett and —Thomas for the sum of One Thousand Nine hundred and eighty-nine ($1,989 00) dollars with interest from the 17th day of November, at 2 per cent. per month, and accruing costs, I will expose to public sale to the highest bidder for cash, at the Court House door in the town of Auburn, Placer county, California, at 10 o'clock, A. M., all the right, title, interest and claim which the said J. Dorenbach had on the 14th day of May, 1862, or that he has since acquired in and to the following described property, to wit: The one-sixth (⅙) part of the mining claims known as the Sailor Claims, situated on Gray's Hill, near the town of Dutch Flat, being bounded on the west and north by the Salt Rising Company's claims, and on the east by the North Star Company's claims. Also: All of that town lot on the west side of I street, in said town of Dutch Flat, being two hundred (200) feet square, (more or less,) enclosed by a board fence, said lot being bounded on the northwesterly by the lot of Charles Seffens, on the west and south west by the lots of Sontagg, Louis Vogle, S. Abrams, and others. Also: that certain lot situated on the south side of Dutch Flat Ravine, fronting eighty feet on said ravine and running back between parallel lines the distance of thirty (30) feet, the same being bounded on the one side by the lot of Mr. Holmes and on the other side by the lot of Godfrey Peffgen. Also: All of the right, title and interest of the said J. Dorembach had on the 14th day of May, 1862, or has since acquired in and to a certain water ditch leading the waters of Bear river into Dutch Flat and vicinity, and formerly known as Pollard's Ditch, and now known as Bartlett & Thomas' ditch, together with all interest of said J. Dorenbach in the flumes, aqueducts, reservoirs and appurtenances thereunto belonging or in anywise appertaining.

On Saturday, the 24th day of December, 1864,

All of which named and described property I shall sell as aforesaid, or so much thereof as may be sufficient to satisfy the above judgment and costs due and to become due.

Auburn, Nov. 21st, 1864.

AN UNKIND TEAR.—When I used to tend store at the "Regulator," in Syracuse, the old man comes round one day, and says he: "Boys, the one that sells the most 'twixt now and Christmas, gets a vest pattern as present."

Maybe we didn't work for that vest pattern! I tell you there was some tall stories told in praise of good just about that time; but the tallest talker and the one that had more cheek than any one of us, was a certain Jonah Squires, who roomed with me. He could talk a dollar out of a man's pocket when the man intended to spend but sixpence; and the women—Lord bless you—they just handed over their pocket-books to him and let him lay out what he liked for them.

One night Jonah woke me up with, "By Josh, old fellow, if you think that 'ere's got any cotton in it, I'll bring down the sheep it was cut from, and make him swear to his own wool!—'Twont wear out either—wore a pair of pants of that kind of stuff for five ears, and they're as good now as when I first put them on! Take it for thirty cents. What d'ye say? Shall I tear it? All right—it's a bargain."

I could feel Jonah's hands playing about the bed clothes for an instant, then rip! tear! went something or another, and I hid my head under the blankets, perfectly convulsed with laughter, and sure that Jonah had torn tke sheet from top to bottom. When I woke up next morning, I found—alas, unkindest tear of all—that the back of my night-shirt was split from tail to collar-band! Jonah got the vest pattern.

DR. MCLEAN IN A NEW LIGHT.—It seems that Dr. John T. McLean, formerly of this city, is likely to have trouble, for a little piece of official misconduct that has recently come to light. It seems that, on Wednesday last, the United States District Court had a decree entered against the steamer Golden City, for violating the revenue laws, in landing goods without a permit from the proper officers of the customs. McLean, it appears, issued a permit, when he had no authority to do so and the steamer landed her goods under it. The law requires that the steamer shall be forfeited and that McLean, shall be prosecuted, and upon conviction adjudged to be "disabled from holding any office of trust or profit under the United States Government, for a term not exceeding seven years; and it shall be the duty of the Collector to advertise his (McLean's) name, and the nature of his offence, in a newspaper printed in the State."—Express.

The Flag says:

We have not heard that any prosecution has been commenced against McLean for this offence. Why is this? The same testimony upon which the steamer was forfeited will convict him. It cannot be for the want of an able United States District Attorney that proceedings against him have not been commenced. Mr. Lake is known to stand high in his profession as a lawyer, that McLean has violated the law in the particulars above stated, there can be no doubts. Why is the justice made to halt? Is the law to be only half carried out—but half satisfied by the forfeiture of the steamer, and McLean to go scot free in this as it is said he has in other cases? The attention of the United States District Attorney is respectfully called to the mattre.

THE DOGS OF ST. BERNARD.—One of the most remarkable of these noble dogs was Barry, who is known to have saved the lives of forty individuals. Besides his cask around his neck, he carried a warm garment on his back: and if he failed to arouse the traveler into some sense of life by his warm tongue and breath, he would race back to the house and bring somebody to the rescue. One day Barry found a poor boy asleep and almost frozen to death in the celebrated glacier of Balsore. Barry warmed the boy, licked him, woke him up, gave him somethieg to drink, and carried him on his back to the monastery. The joy of the poor parents who can describe? After a life of service Barry was sent down the montains to a warm and comfortable home, where he passed the rest of his days in honorable quiet. At his death his body was carefully buried, and his skin was stuffed, and there he may be seen in the museum of Berne standing as large as life, with his collar and bottle around his neck, ready to start on his labors of love.

The dogs are short-lived. Many die from disease of the lungs, and others are lost in the falling of avalanches and other accidents. Neither men nor dogs can long stand the severe climate and thin air of so great a height. Both are often obliged to go down into the valley below and recruit amidst milder scenes. The leader of the pack now is named Plato, a brave big creature, doing deeds of usefulness and valor which might put to blush the life of many a one of human understanding who never risked a thought, much less a deed, to help his fellow-men.

THE history of the growth of wool, is very curious. Sixty years ago not a pound of fine wool was raised in the United States or Great Britain, or in any other country except Spain. In the latter country, the flocks were owned exclusively by the nobility of the crown. In 1794, a small flock was sent to the Elector of Saxony, as a present from the King of Spain, the entire product of Saxony wool, now of such immense value. In 1809, during the second invasion of Spain by the French, some of the valuable crown sheep were sold to raise money. The American Consul at Lisbon, Mr. Jarvis, purchased 1,400 head and sent them to this country. A portion of the pure, unmixed merino blood of these flocks is to be found in Vermont at this time. Such was the origin of the immense flocks of fine wooled sheep in the United States.—Occidental.

INDIAN TREATY.—A letter to the Oregonian, dated Vancouver, Nov. 22d, says:

Information has just been received here that Pe-lini, the war chief of the Snake Indians, has surrendered himself to the commandant of Fort Klamath. He says that he is tired of war, and desires to remain at peace with the whites forever. Mr. Huntington, Superintendent of Indian affairs, invited the Snakes to sit in council, but only twelve—not enough to represent the tribe—responded. The surrender is the natural result of the operations of the troops in the Indian country during the past Summer. The anxiety of the Indians to avoid a fight left them no time to gather food, and the only alternative of Pe-lini was to surrender or starve, and the latter was the least to his liking.

SOME years ago, a North Carolina lawyer undertook to convince a Methodist preacher of some celebrity that his manner in preaching, in threatening his auditors with damnation, was injudicious, and that arguments and exhortation of a milder character would be more successful. After listening patiently the preacher replied: "My friend, you are mistaken; sin is like a terrapin, you may exhort, admonish, even kick him, and he will not move, but merely draw his head within the shell, and your labor is lost; but place a coal of fire on his back, and he travels. Hell fire is the article.

FORTUNE'S VICTIMS.—W. W. Chollar, the original locator of the famous Chollar claim in Virginia, Nv., resides in Grass Valley, and is still "prospecting" to strike a pile. Comstock is mining at Boise. Alvah Gould, locator of the Gould & Curry, makes a scant subsistence by cutting shingles in Washoe Valley.

WHICH is the most powerful, the earth or the sea? The sea, of course, it has such heaps of sunsets.

INDIVIDUAL RESPONSIBILITY.—That was a fine purpose of a young Christian which he entered in his diary: "Resolved, that I will, the Lord being my helper, think, speak, and act as an individual; for as such I must live, as such I must stand before God; and be damned or saved forever. I must act as if I were the only one to act, and wait no longer."

We must die alone. We must render up our account each for himself. The final reckoning will be Thee and me. "Thou art the man," and "Follow thou me," are the Divine verdict and requirement.

WISDOM is the olive that springeth from the heart, bloometh on the tongue, and beareth fruit in the actions.

PRIVATE MEDICAL INSTITUTE

Established by

DR. J. C. YOUNG, IN 1850,

For the Cure of Private Diseases of whatever naure

AND ALL FEMALE COMPLAINTS.

CONSULTING OFFICE,

540 WASHINGTON STREET,

SAN FRANCISCO, : : : : : CALIFORNIA

NO CURE, NO PAY.

Consultation by letter or otherwise, FREE. For direction of letters, see below.

THIS CELEBRATED INSTITUTE has enjoyed on this coast an uninterupted success of fourteen years, and has become one of the renowned Hospitals of the age. What the celebrated Lock Hospital is to London, and the no less renowned establishment of Ricord is to Paris, this Institute has become to the Pacific coast. The thousands annually received and cured place it in point of number of patients among the very first of the world, and the success of its treatment ranks it second to none.

PRIVATE DISEASES IN MALES and IRREGULARITIES IN FEMALES are the great destroyers of health. They insidiously attack the system and gradually undermine and destroy it; they drive the bloom from the cheek, the lustre from the eye, the strength and vigor from the frame; they give to the world puny and diseased offspring, and poison, through successive generations the race of man. The marks can be seen in Scrofula, Consumption, Cripples, the Idiotic, the Paralytic, the Insane, etc.

There is no more terrible scourge to the human race than those diseases arising from the contamination of Venerial Poison. The mildest forms, by retreating to the blood, hold ever over the one afflicted, the sword of destruction that is liable at any moment to fall and blight—to utterly destroy—all earthly hopes.

MERCURY, recognized as the most fatal medical enemy to man, combining with the Venerial, doubles in dangers. Those who have been treated with that pernicious mineral poison are not cured: the disease has only assumed a new form.

Do not be satisfied with partial cures that leave the poison to crawl through the system, eating its way into the tissues and organs beneath the apparently smooth surface, to burst out in the future with a virulence that will baffle the effects of medicine. WHEN PERFECT CURES can be obtained by consulting a physician whom long practice and thorough investigation into the causes of DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS enables to determine at once the nature of the disease.

In all diseasses entrusted to the Doctor's care, PERFECT, SPEEDY and PERMANENT

Cures are Always Guaranteed,

In syphilis and its adjuncts; Gonnorhœa and its accompanying diseases; and all disorders of the Bladder, Kidneys and prostrate; Seminal Weakness; Diseases of the Heart and Lungs; Dyspepsia; Indigestion, Impotency; Incipient Consumption, and all diseases of the urinary organs, in either sex, cure always warranted, OR NO PAY REQUIRED at the PRIVATE

MEDICAL IVSTITUTE,

No 540 Washington street, San Francisco, Cal.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS OR SPERMATORROEA.

The young man who experiences that growing weakness in his muscular and mental organization should stop to consider whence it arises. He will find in the weakness of the back, trembling of the limbs, disordered digestion, unaccountable failing of the powers of the mind, distaste for society, dread of impending trouble, forebodings of evil, sleeplessness, troubled and lacivious dreams accompanied by growing deafness, loss of muscular power, and numerous other symptoms of disorganization, the positive traces of that most terrible and dertructive of all diseases, Seminal Weakness—wasting away his powers, destroying his hope of life and manhood, and dragging him along the broken path of his existence toward a premature and loathsome grave. To him who finds his life dribbling out in the discharge of the vital principal of existence in nocturnal and diurnal emissions, the mere cessation of its appearance brings no assurance of relief.

Marriage, that holy office, the safeguard and hope of manhood, brings to such an one no hope of cure, but adds to his misery in the knowledge that the one who looks to him for so much of her happiness, is a victim of his evil, and an innocent companion of his punishment. He adds to his misery and disorder until hope leaves him. There is no rescue except in proper and skillful treatment. Consult, then, at once, a physician whom long practice and careful research has made thoroughly conversant with every phase of the disease. Those who have become the victims of solitary vices, that dreadful, fascinating and destructive habit, which fills thousands of sick rooms with paralytics and consumptives, and hundreds ot untimely graves with its misguided victims, should consult, without a moment's delay, one who will sympathise with their sufferings. To such the Doctor would especially address himself, giving to each and all assurance of a PERFECT and PERMANENT CURE, without hindrance from business, change of diet, or fear of expnsure.

Do not forget the address. See below.

IMPORTANT TO FEMALES.

When a female is in trouble or afflicted with disease, and requires medical or surgical assistance, the enquiry should be, Where is there a physician who is fully competent to administer relief, and whose respectable standing in society recommends him to the confidence of the community? The Doctor, understanding how imperatively necessary these requirements are, feels called upon to interpose, and by the attention of the afflicted to the fact that he has been a Professor of Obstetrics and Female Diseases for twenty years, and is fully qualified to administer in all cases, both medically and surgically, not in a superficial manner, but in as thorough a manner as years of study and practice—both in hospitals and private families—can make, to save them from the hands of the unqualified, unscrupulous and designing. Therefore families can rely upon him as upon a father. All in affliction can find in him one who can feel and sympathize with and befriend them in trouble—one in whose secrecy and the utmost confidence can be placed. Consultation, by letter or otherwise, Free. See address below.

THE CELEBRATED FEMALE REMEDIES, compounded from the private prescription of Dr. Young, have now obtained a most extended popularity, and are correctly viewed to be the safest and surest remedies or the complaints for which they are applied. The constantly occuring testimonials of their efficacy declare them to be pre-eminently superior in their action. No lady should be without these Renovating Agents. None genuine unless procured at this office.

Sent by Mail or Express, to any part of the State. THE GREAT FEMALE MEDICINE! PREVENTIVE POWDERS FOR MARRIED LADIES. New, Safe and Infallible, lasting from four to six months. Price $10.—French Lunar, or Female monthly Pills, for suppressions. After fifty years of use these pills stand unrivalled in efficacy. Price $5 per box.

To Correspondents.

Patients residing in any part of the State however distant, who may desire medical advice on their respective cases, and who think proper to submit a written statement of such in preference to holding a personal interview, are assured that their communications will be held most sacred.

All letters must be addressed to the corresponding physician, thus:

IT IS THE ONLY RELIABLE

Self-adjusting Wringer.

NO WOOD-WORK TO SWELL OR SPLIT

No Thumb-Screws to get out of Order.

Waranted with or without Cog-wheels.

It took the FIRST PREMIUM at Fifty-seven State and County Fairs in 1863, and is, without an exception the best Wringer ever made. Patented in the United States, England, Canada, and Australia. Agents wanted in every town, and in all parts of the world. Energetic agents can make from $3 to $10 per day. Sample Wringer sent Express-paid on receipt of price. No. 2, $6 50. No. 1, $7 50. No. F, $8 50. No. A, $9 50. Manufactured and sold, wholesale and retail, by the

PUTNAM MANUFACTURING CO.,
No. 13 Platt str., New York, Cleveland, Ohio, and Birmingham, Vt.
S. C. NORTHROP, Agent.

WHAT EVERYBODY KNOWS:

That Iron well galvanized will not rust; that a simple machine is better than a complicated one; that a wringer should be self-adjusting and efficient; that thumb-screws and fastenings cause delay and trouble to regulate and keep in order; that wood soaked in hot water will swell, shrink and split; that wood bearings for a shaft to run in will wear out; that the Putnam Wringer, with or without cog-wheels, will not tear the clothes; that cog-wheel regulators are not essential, that the Putnam Wringer has ALL the advantages, and not one of the disadvantages above named; that all who have tested it, pronounce it the best Wringer ever made; that it will wring a Thread or a Bed-Quilt without alteration.

We might fill the paper with testimonials, but only insert a few to convince the skeptical, if such there be; and we say to all, TEST Putnam's Wringer. Test it thoroughly with ANY and ALL others, and if not entirely satisfactory, return it.

Putnam Manufacturing Co.—Gentlemen:—I know from practical experience that iron well galvanized with zinc will not oxidize or rust one particle. The Putnam Wringer is as near perfect as possible, and I can cheerfully recommend it to be the best in use.

Respectfully yours, JNO. W. WHEELER,
Cleveland, Ohio.

Many years' experience in the galvanizing business enable me to indorse the above statement in all particulars. JNO. C. LEFFERTS,
New York, Jan. 1864. No. 100 Beekman str.

We have tested Putnam's Wringer by practical working and know that it will do. It is cheap; it is simple; it requires no room, whether at work or at rest; a child can operate it; it does its duty thoroughly; it saves time and its saves wear and tear. We earnestly advise all who have much washing to do, with all intelligent persons who have any, to buy this Wringer. It will pay for itself in a year at most.
